The old man ran down the river hurriedly. He was not sure why the boys who were looking after the animals that day were screaming. He looked in all directions but could not see any danger. No smoke or fire was visible.

On reaching the grazing field, he saw all the animals grazing peacefully. The screaming had stopped but no boy could be seen. He looked around wondering where the boys were.

Suddenly, all the boys appeared from the edge of a nearby bush laughing loudly. "Grandfather, we are very sorry, we missed you and we knew that was the only way to make you come and join us." He looked at the boys who were very excited to see him. "Sit down I will tell you a story," the old man told the boys.

That is what the boys liked from the grandfather.

Read the story below and answer questions 41 – 50

Many people in the world fear spiders. They consider them terrifying and harmful. However, not all spiders are dangerous. Some are quite harmless.

The world largest spider is commonly known as tarantula. To some people, this variety of spiders is called monster spiders or goliath spiders. The smallest spider could be the size of a pin head while the largest is as big as the size of your palm. Tarantulas have eight legs just like any other spiders. Their bodies are hairy and they use this hair to sting their prey or enemies.

Tarantula spiders live in many places especially in South America. Next time you see a spider be careful not to play with the dangerous type.
