- f) JOHN: Good morning sir, how do you do
Neighbour: How do you do young man. You look like the boys next door. What can I do for you?
John: Do you mind to turn down the volume of your radio? I ask this because I am trying to study.
Neighbour: Well.... I am sorry if I have been such a distraction to you though I don't remember you complaining in the past.
John: Well sir, I do so today because exams start tomorrow in our school.
Neighbour: Am glad to hear that. Hope I haven't been too much of a nuisance sir, we also love music but we need a conducive environment now. Thanks for your kindness sir

Neighbour: Ok I can see we are two of a kind, only that you need to get good grades at school. I promise to cooperate. Good night.

NB: exchanges lacking polite forms award no mark.
